

Success!

As of last week's Wednesday night deadline, the Byron Fund Raising Committee was still $2,824 short of their goal for building the new library. As the sign at right joyously proclaimed, they did it! Yes, in a few short hours McDaniel, Williams and crew pleaded and persuaded enough so that by Friday morning they had the necessary funds in hand. From here on out, it is all systems "go" for a beautiful new library in Byron.

photo and comment by Carla Hill

